Winlog Lite License

The evaluation of the Winlog Web Client application requires a Winlog Pro development license or Winlog Lite development license. After a validation of your application (with development license) at the end of your test, you can buy a runtime license and download the Winlog Web Client. Once activated, you can install the Client in your own home computer. In this way, you can create remote applications and purchase the synchronization or remote operation cost. The Winlog Lite evaluation is free. Both User (Console) and Enterprise license can be purchased on a yearly basis, or customized for one, two or three years with a purchase contract. If you want to upgrade or renew your software and don't want to pay the upgrade price, it is possible to pay the difference of the cost of the existing client and the new one for three years. The features of the Winlog Lite evaluation version are thus the same as those offered by the Winlog Pro. With the evaluation version, you can use the Winlog Lite web client without license and in the following three years you will be able to pay for a new Client to purchase with each license and the most recent updates.
